

Accessibility Statement

Our commitment to diversity and inclusion

At Hooters, accessibility, diversity and inclusion are important values that affect everything we do. Whether you use a screen reader, voice recognition software or another kind of assistive technology, we want hooters.com to be accessible to you and easy to navigate.

Accomplishing accessibility goals

We set our web accessibility standards high and are working to achieve them. Our team is dedicated to ensure our site meets all laws and guidelines and creates a useable experience for all customers. We are continuously educating ourselves and learning through training sessions with advocacy groups, industry partners and more.

How our site is changing

Here are some of the things we're doing to make our site easy to use for everyone:

Improving site structure

We're working to edit the pages of hooters.com to include appropriate headings, lists, paragraphs and other formatting for better usability with assistive technology.

Adding text equivalents

We're adding alternative text, captions and transcripts to images and videos so users who can't see or hear have a text equivalent to interact with.

Building for full keyboard access

We are developing new pages with keyboard accessibility in mind so that users can easily tab through a page to find the content they need.

Creating site consistency

We are creating templates for our site to ensure consistency. Once you're familiar with how our pages and menus work, you can expect similar functionality across the site, each time you visit.
